

Air Show.

Australia's fine open skies and vast open spaces lend themselves to flying and many people fly or wish to. Air Shows are hugely popular, and the air force can usually be depended upon to show what some of their machines can do.

